

Rites of Summer: Dog Days Edition
The Scottish Rite Orient of North Carolina
Summer Leadership Conference

July 28-29, 2017

The Masonic Center of Winston-Salem
4537 Country Club Road, Winston Salem, NC 27104

Merriam-Webster defines Dog Days as the hot sultry period between early July and early September, marked by a period of stagnation or inactivity caused by the heat of the season.

The Orient of NC Summer Leadership Conference is an exception. You're invited to defy the dictionary and find rejuvenation with brethren and their families from across the state. We promise refreshing presentations, cool new ideas, and no hot air.
